1959-60 County Tax Rate To Remain at Same Level

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The 1959-60 county tax rate of $2.07 per $100 of assessed valuation will not be increased for the coming fiscal year, despite higher budget requirements, it was indicated at a meeting on finances held by the County Board of Supervisors.

The Board met to consider capital construction projects needed for space to meet the growth in government.

T. M. Heggland, chief administrative officer, told the Board that all immediate space needs, including those which the Board could decide as a matter of policy to put off, would require only $715,000 of additional revenue next year, if all are in the budget.

Among the policy items are $74,800 for a third courtroom at El Cajon requested by Judge R. Fenton Garfield; $147,000 for a new library building at Vista, and $98,000 for a new library building at Encinitas. The biggest item of the "policy" structures is that for a new branch welfare building, either in the South Bay or East County area.

The branch welfare building would cost about $460,000, Heggland said. The Board directed Chairman Frank Gibson to get in touch with the County Board of Retirement to see if it would advance $500,000 for the welfare building.

Heggland pointed out, in discussing next year's financing, that the tax base was up $136,000,000 in 1959-60, as a result of increased assessments and county growth. He said a similar gain of only $100,000,000 for the coming year would mean $2,070,000 more in tax revenues at the existing $2.07 rate.

Among the large construction items that have to be met, that the Board has already settled policy on, Heggland put $1,250,000 for a courthouse annex and $700,000 for the Agua Buena drainage and flood control project near Vista. The latter sum will be repaid the county from state and federal sources. The courthouse addition which probably will come to a total cost of $3,000,000, will be financed from funds already in the budget and out of coming budgets over a three-year period.

Supervisor De Graff Austin advocated consideration of a bond issue for the county's over-all program for meeting space needs. He put among the projects to be financed a proposed operations center, a building for the coroner and public administrator, another building for the probation department.

"I question whether a pay-as-you-go program is advisable," Austin said, "in the view of the county using the last courthouse for 80 years."

Supervisor David W. Bird disagreed, pointing out that interest on a bond issue to finance the required buildings could amount to $7,000,000 over the 20-year life of the bonds.

Supervisors took no action on any of the space needs, except to direct a study to be made of the cost of altering a building at El Cajon boulevard and 37th street, now used by Convair, which can be rented for $3,000 per month, and another study of the cost of adding to the county-owned building at Ash and Pacific Highway, also used for welfare.

Heggland, in addition, is to report in six months on a new wing on the Civic Center Build-

Daley Corporation Submits Low Bid Of $269,297.82

Road Engineer's Estimate Was $322,485.90

The Daley Corporation was low bidder this week for the mile-long improvement of Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The County Board of Supervisors is expected to make an official awarding of the contract in about 10 days, after legalities and technicalities are checked.

The successful bid was $269,297.82—as compared to the engineer's estimate of $322,485.90.

Company officials said that construction will begin about May 15, "depending on what utility poles and other things have to be moved before we can start."

The street will be reconstructed from the intersection with College avenue at the freeway, east to the intersection of Broadway at Olive. The length of the project is just a few yards short of one mile.

Plans approved by the supervisors call for the street to appear roughly the same as Imperial avenue now does—with center islands that taper into "left hand storage pockets" at intersections.

The "new" street will have traffic signals at Massachusetts, West and Buena Vista, with a warning beacon at Olive, where the project ends.

The project will include an estimated 18,000 cubic yards of excavation; importing of 18,000 cubic yards of base material; installation of 30,000 square feet of concrete driveways and sidewalks; installation of more than 2,000 feet of storm drains and 1,000 feet of culverts.

The new street will have a right of way of 100 feet, with an 82-foot roadway including the 18-foot center strip. The improvement will end at the west curb line of Olive. From there, Broadway will drop abruptly to its present two-lane width.

County road department officials said that nothing can be done by the county about plans for improving Broadway east of Olive until property owners there make some disposition of a road improvement district which was set up for the improvement, but failed to get sufficient accord for the county to go ahead with plans.

Helix Board Opposes Reapportionment Plan

Directors of the Helix Irrigation District have unanimously voted to oppose the so-called Bonelli plan to reapportion the State Senate, Harry Griffen, board president, said this week.

"The Bonelli plan allocates 20 state senators to northern California and 20 senators to southern California," Griffen said, "but seven of these senators are allocated to Los Angeles county, which coupled with the remaining senators in the metropolitan area will make a block of 13 votes in the State Senate, of southern California's 20, concentrated in and around Los Angeles."

It was for this reason, in addition to the belief that the Bonelli plan would assure the defeat of the California Water Program, that Helix directors opposed Senate reapportionment.

The resolution adopted by the Helix board said that inequitable reapportionment of the State Senate is contrary to the principles of American government in that it concentrates the majority of both houses of the Legislature in the population centers of the state. Geographical representation has no place in the Bonelli bill.

Directors said in the resolution that San Diego county's gain of a single senator is "too high a price to pay for sacrificing our working democratic system of checks and balances."

In addition to Griffen, directors voting were Mabel Bryan, Nat L. Eggert, John B. Gibson and Robert Rundell.

County Can't Aid Anti-Bonelli Fight, Counsel Says

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—It will be illegal for the county to pay anything toward the cost of any organization fighting reapportionment of the State Senate, the county counsel's office has informed the Board of Supervisors.

Deputy County Counsel Bertram McLees' opinion was submitted to the Board as the result of a request for $1,000 from "Californians Against Inequitable Reapportionment." The group sent the local Supervisors an opinion from the Office of the Legislative Counsel saying it could be hired to represent the county in hearings at Sacramento.

But McLees' opinion states, "While we agree with the Legislative Counsel that a county may employ a corporation to represent its Board of Supervisors before the State Legislature and its committees, including interim committees, the payment of membership dues to Californians Against Inequitable Reapportionment would be beyond the authority of the county."

The anti-reapportionment group, McLees declares, is going to wage a publicity campaign to beat a change in membership in the senate. Should the Board spend money to aid in this, McLees said, (it would be subject to a decision saying "the responsible officers ordering the payment, even though acting in good faith, can be compelled in a taxpayers' suit to refund to the city the money so expended."

McLees said decision, rendered by the State Supreme Court in a case where a city spent money to influence an election, applies in the present case.

The reapportionment is being backed where membership in the State Senate would be increased. San Diego's representation would also be raised, but the plan is opposed because it is feared it would alienate northern support for water aid.

SWIMMING POOL

The Lemon Grove Swimming Pool Association will hold a public meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 6 of the Lemon Grove junior high school.

All citizens interested in obtaining a swimming pool for the community are invited.

Two Beauty Contests To Be Combined In Search for Queen

Two traditional beauty contests will be combined in Lemon Grove this year.

The winner will be crowned Miss Lemon Grove and will represent the community in all civic functions for the coming year. She also will represent Lemon Grove on June 3 in the Fairest of the Fair and Miss San Diego County contest.

James Boyd, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which in the past has held a contest to pick Miss Lemon Grove, said that his organization will "adopt" the girl picked by the Kiwanis Club as Lemon Grove's entry in the Fairest of the Fair contest.

The Kiwanis Club, with Jack Vickrey as chairman, will stage its beauty contest on May 11. Entries already are being received for the contest. Entry blanks can be obtained at Dial Drug or at the office of the Lemon Grove Review. They may be mailed to Vickrey at his office, 5486 El Cajon Blvd., San Diego, or turned in to the office of the Lemon Grove Review, 7834 Lester, Lemon Grove.

Contestants must be between the ages of 16 and 26, never married, and a bonafide resident of the community. They will be graded on a point basis for beauty of face and figure, poise and personality.

The girls will appear in formal gowns, and a second appearance may be made in bathing suits.

A top prize of a seven-day all expense paid vacation for two in Alaska will be awarded to the girl who is chosen the 1960 Fairest of The Fair to reign over the Southern California Exposition and San Diego County Fair in Del Mar June 24 through July 4.

E. J. "Jack" Manion, a resident of Rancho Santa Fe, has filed his intention to run for the Assembly from the 77th district.

He will run unopposed in the Republican primary, June 7.

The Democratic office-holder is Sheridan Hegland who also will run for the assembly seat.

He came to California in 1952 as a merchandising consultant for a cellophane packaging firm. In 1955 he bought a feed mill in San Diego. The mill is presently operated by his partner. Manion is also zone manager for an investment fund organization.

He is a life-time Republican and a member of the Rancho Santa Fe Rotary Club.

L.G. Chamber Dinner-Dance To Attract 150 Saturday

The Lemon Grove chamber of commerce will honor its 1959 president, Bill Parker, Saturday night at a dinner-dance at the Lemon Grove Bowlero.

Nearly 150 persons will take part in the affair starting at 7:30. The dinner will be preceded by a no-host cocktail gathering in the Bowlero's Lantern Inn.

The chamber, at its regular board meeting Tuesday, approved a new dues schedule. Beginning in July the dues will be $36 a year for members with five or less employes. For any number over five, $3 a year per employe will be added with the maximum rate to be $125.

The board also instructed chamber president Larry Folda to pay the obligations incurred for attempting to form a road improvement district on Broadway and for the cost of Christmas decorations for 1959. The amount involved is $1,300.

Committee chairmen on membership, finance, police, publicity, and retailing also gave reports. These were given by H. Templeton, R. Vaught, Milt Austin, Jim Boyd and Jim Hegarty, respectively.

The chamber plans to get a fund-raising project started immediately with an all-expense trip to Las Vegas as a prize.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Paul Engstrand, the redoubtable Counsellor for the Grossmont Hospital District, reacted quickly to this newspaper's editorial position last week in regard to closed staff meetings at the district hospital.

He registered his complaint (happily it was in lay language rather than in legal mumbo-jumbo) that we had accused the Grossmont Hospital District board of directors of holding closed meetings.

Of course we had said no such thing!

We said the Grossmont Hospital District staff holds closed meetings. They did and they still do.

The staff, as every director knows, is a medical group in charge of the medical personnel at the hospital. They say which doctors may or may not treat their own ill patients at Grossmont. Also closed are the meetings of the credentials committee. This committee reports to the staff, and the staff reports to the directors. The staff usually follows the recommendations of credentials, and the directors, usually routinely, follow the findings of the staff. The directors approve these recommendations in open meetings.

So far, there has been no legislation requiring the medical staff to hold open meetings, and we are not at all sure that they should be, except when there is reason to suspect discrimination.

Last month a Superior Court judge handed down an opinion in Castro Valley that closed meetings by the board on staff matters are in violation of the Brown Act. Possibly the question of delegation of authority would come into question if hospital directors attempted to deny responsibility for the actions of subordinate groups such as credentials and staff.

Assembly Bill 1824 was vetoed at last session. The Bill would have allowed hospital districts to hold executive sessions to discuss medical staff or personnel. By the veto the Assembly is saying that closed or executive sessions shall not be held.

Doctors of medicine, we think, residing within the district should be allowed to treat their own patients in their own hospital.

As it stands now, a local doctor has been denied the use of his hospital and the decision was made by the Grossmont staff, most of the members of which list San Diego as an address.

Thus, it seems, the authority comes from without the district.

DOGS ORDINANCE

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—A new ordinance designed to control dogs in the county, with forced anti-rabies shots included, will soon be ready for submission to the County Board of Supervisors. The Board was told this Tuesday by Bertram McLees, Jr., assistant county counsel, whose office has been preparing the proposed new law.

Men's Club to Hear Coordinating Council President

The Rev. E. Walter Smith, president of the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council, will address the Lemon Grove Men's Club this Friday.

He will discuss the formation and functions of the council.

Last week, Mrs. Patricia Aufdenspring, assistant chief operator of the telephone company in La Mesa, gave an illustrated talk about the functions of the company.

A proposed series of discussions about incorporation of Lemon Grove so far has failed to materialize.

John Dail, vice president and program chairman, said that he has been unable to locate speakers who would be willing to present arguments in favor of incorporation.

LEMON GROVE STORES OPEN 'TIL 9 FRIDAYS

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

I was singing softly to myself as I walked into the house. It had been a pretty nice day. Sunny and warm. Things had gone well at the office. No irate readers giving me heck. Even a couple of appreciative readers passing out compliments.

I was singing softly to myself.

As I entered the door, little Ronnie came running up to me. He was naked as a jaybird.

"What happened to your clothes?" I asked.

"Bugga Bugga Bugga, dadada," he said.

"Oh," I said.

Paula stuck her head out from the kitchen.

"Take that little boy," she said, "and throw him out in the yard."

"What's the trouble?" I asked.

"Trouble?" she said. "No trouble. The sink stopped up and when I tried to unstop it I spilled water on the floor and Ronnie was mopping it up. He got it all over the kitchen and the back porch.

"I took him in the bathroom to clean him up and after I had cleaned him up he ran out here in the kitchen and knocked over a big pan of starch and I took him back in the bathroom to clean him up and after I cleaned him up he ran out here and slipped on the starch that was spilled on the floor and slid in under the washing machine and banged his head."

"Poor little boy," I said, gently rubbing the knot on his head.

"Hah!" Paula said. "I've only told you about the first 15 minutes since you left this morning.

"Later I went out to cool off a little bit and I was watering the flowers and things and I laid the hose down for a minute and Ronnie got it and when I looked around he was sitting in a puddle of mud with the hose running over his feet.

"I took him in the bathroom to clean him up and while I was there I forgot the hose and it flooded that corner of the yard where you planted the bush the other day and when Ronnie and I went out there he ran right into the mud and fell down."

"Poor little boy, I said, hugging him.

"Wait," said Paula, "we're only up to noon in my story. At noon I put his dinner on a plate instead of his bowl with the suction cup on it and he was trying to pick up some food with his fork and he pushed the plate off on the floor and broke it."

"Poor little boy," I said, "lost his dinner."

"And then," Paula said, "he wouldn't take a nap and I was trying to sew some buttons on Katy's blouse and he kept stealing all the buttons and I had to keep taking them away from him so he wouldn't put them in his mouth and I"m worn to a frazzle."

"Gee," I said, "you've had a busy day. You must not have things very well organized around here."

After Paula had slammed the door behind me, Ronnie and I wandered around the yard a while, looking at and smelling the pretty flowers.

"Pritty," Ronnie said.

"Sure are," I agreed.

I put Ronnie in his little fenced yard where he can't get into any trouble and I went around to turn on the hose so I could water some potted plants.

I turned around and there stood Ronnie, holding the hose in the air, with the stream of water cascading down over his head.

He looked extremely happy. In fact he was gurgling.

I was admiring the little rascal's water-loving spirit when I heard a noise behind me that was somewhere between a gasp and a scream.

It was Paula. She rushed into the yard, grabbed Ronnie and hustled him off into the house. I could hear muffled noises from the bathroom.

"Poor little boy," I said.

Income Tax Fax

A public service of the Society of California Accountants

Do you have to file a declaration of estimated tax for 1960? You do if:

(1) The gross income for the taxable year can reasonably be expected to consist of wages and of not more than $100 from other sources other than such wages, and can reasonably be expected to exceed—

(A) $5,000, in the case of a single individual other than a head of a household or a surviving spouse or, in the case of a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration with his spouse;

(B) $10,000, in the case of a head of household or surviving spouse;

(C $)5,000, in the case of a married individual entitled to file a joint return with his spouse, and the aggregate gross income of such individual and his spouse for the taxable year can reasonably be expected to exceed $10,000; or

(2) The gross income can reasonably be expected to include more than $100 from sources other than wages and can reasonably be expected to exceed the sum of—

(A) the amount obtained by multiplying $600 by the number of exemptions to which he is entitled plus

(B) $400.

Suppose you are married and have one child for whom you can claim an exemption, then you would figure like so:

3 exemptions at $600 each	$1,800
Specific exclusion	400
	$2,200

So you would be required to file a declaration if your income could be expected to exceed $2,200 and would include over $100 from sources other than wages.

The declaration may be a joint one with your spouse or a separate filing. Any tax paid on a separate declaration may be used to pay the tax due on a joint final return; likewise any tax paid on a joint declaration may be used to pay the tax due on separate final returns.

Declarations of estimated tax are made on form 1040ES. These forms are available at your local office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Your estimate and one quarter of the tax is due on April 15, 1960. Payments are due on June 15 and September 15, 1960, and January 15, 1961. On any one of these date you can file an amended estimate and change the amount of tax you are paying.

Coordinating Council Q & A

Here is another in the series of questions and answers regarding the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council. The material is supplied by the public relations committee of the Council.

HOW DID THE LEMON GROVE COORDINATING COUNCIL START?

A community crisis is usually the cause or inspiration for forming a Coordinating Council and such was the case here. Large numbers of Lemon Grove citizens were concerned about problems in connection with a local drive-in theatre and responded immediately when a public meeting to discuss the problem was called. This meeting came about thru a cooperative effort of local P.T.A. groups and the Pastor's Assn. who led it. A citizens committee was elected to meet with the theatre people to discuss the situation. The results of this activity pointed out that there was little, if any, means to correct this or similar situations that might occur and that this community had many needs than a more effective coordinated effort might fulfill. They unanimously agreed that the formation of a coordinating council to represent the majority of citizens in this community could be effective—so it was formed.

If you're planning to plant a colorful bed of zinnias, now is the perfect time to prepare the soil, because your zinnias should not be planted until we begin to have warm nights as well as warm days and that generally means along in May.

Spade steer manure or cow manure into the soil at this time and let it lie until you're ready to plant your zinnias so that it will be thoroughly decomposed. The addition of a little bone meal is excellent and, of course, use soil sulphur (2 pounds to each 100 square feet).

All these things mixed into the soil and irrigated over the next three or four weeks will provide a perfect foundation for the growing of beautiful zinnias.

Since zinnias are highly susceptible to root borers it is advisable to treat the soil with a copperether product at the time you plant so as to prevent these troublesome termites from getting into the roots.

'Too-Sexy' Movies? The Blame is Ours, School Man Says

"Sex in movies," Tom Warburton told a gathering of parents, members of civic, church and school organizations, and movie theater owners last week, "is not the result of a carefully hatched and sinister plot perpetuated upon the American public by Madison Avenue, but is instead a reflection of much of the moral sickness which is affecting the lives of too many American people."

Warburton, assistant superintendent of the Grossmont high school district, was keynote speaker at the conference, held at El Cajon junior high school. He said that the situation about which the conference was held "is nothing new. Similar situations were part of ancient history."

The Foothills Secondary Council of the PTA, with Mrs. Jean Birch as president, sponsored the discussion on the quality of movies being shown in this area. The discussion drew more than 250 persons.

He further stated, "We get pretty much what we as Americans want. This is strongly brought home to me by the fact that a family motion picture bill presented at one of our local movie houses opened to seven people; one week later a different kind of double feature, showing a film which was objectionable primarily because of its over-emphasis on sex, opened to a full house."

Another Warburton statement was, "The thing that I am asking for is a recognition on the part of parents that they have the responsibility to know what their youngsters are seeing, where they are going and what they are doing, and most important to say 'No' when the situation demands it."

During the general discussion many views were given. Some were of the opinion that the Communists are behind objectionable films in order to undermine American morals.

One woman said the young children in her neighborhood are getting used to seeing women half-clad, because that is how they are seen shopping in supermarkets and other places. She said she doubts if a youngster would "pay any attention to a naked woman."

A bit of humor was added to the meeting, when one of the theatre managers arose and said, "I am glad to be here tonight with all you GOOD people."

Following a "buzz" session, the following recommendations were adopted:

Advertising in newspapers should be toned down and less lurid.

Rate movies as done in Parents Magazine, etc.

Convince parents that they should control which movies their children see.

Concentrate action by organizations on producers to produce better films by writing, movie conferences, etc.

Let the movie producers censor themselves by reactivating a committee such as the old Hayes committee.

Stop using movies as baby sitters.

Support the good films.

And finally . . . At children's Saturday movies, preview the following Saturday's movie, not the adult movie to be shown during the week.

An East County Movie Committee, with Mrs. Charles McMahon in charge, was formed, to put into practice some of the suggestions coming from the meeting. The committe is scheduled to meet April 11.

Prohibition Party To Register

"The Prohibition Party in California is conducting a very active campaign for more registration for their party," according to Ray Block, executive secretary of the State Central Committee.

The party is being rejuvenated by the vigorous campaign being conducted by the 1960 Presidential Candidate, Dr. Rutherford L. Decker, prominent Kansas City minister, who has just completed a trip to California.

The Prohibition Party has many other reforms in addition to Prohibition on its 1960 platform, such as economy in government, the federal budget, freedom of religion, compulsory military training and many others.

Prohibition is a legally constituted party in California. It is the only one other than the two major parties.

Party officials urge a change in registration to the Prohibition Party before April 14, the deadline to register before the Primary election.

Sewer Plant, Subdivision Hit Approval Snag

CHULA VISTA (CNS) — An ambitious subdivision development of 7,000 homes and a sewage treatment plant to aid Spring Valley "and look like a garden" ran into a snag Friday.

The subdivision is planned for the La Colonia Bonita area, down stream from Spring Valley near the Sweetwater river.

The development, part of which already has been started, is the brain child of Los Angeles developer Dr. A. J. Sweeney. He told the San Diego Regional Water Pollution Control Board that the homes he plans to build in lots of 200 would range in price from near $10,000 to $35,000.

Also to be included in the La Colonia Bonita development are eight churches, a Catholic school, public schools, a shopping center, a hospital and professional building providing for 40 doctors and dentists and a country club and golf course, Sweeney told the board.

Dr. Sweeney appeared before the board asking permission for construction of a sewer treatment plant which he claimed would turn out effluent "purer that the water from San Diego taps."

An official of the city said he didn't believe it.

Sweeney said his company and associates had been holding off since last October, waiting for the go-ahead from the board, and requested immediate action on the project "so we can get started . . . we're ready and waiting," he added.

Dr. Sweeney said he wanted to build houses and the sewer treatment plant simultaneously.

The stocky, energetic Los Angeles developer waxed lyrical in his description of the sewer plant and the pure effluent it could turn out, adding that he would offer to process the overflow from Spring Valley which he declared has its share of waste problems.

We'll even lay the lines to do so," he said.

In his efforts to sell the development to the board, Dr. Sweeney said his homes would be guaranteed for five years, including electrical facilities, carpets and construction of the homes themselves.

Speaking in opposition to the sewer plant plan of the Los Angeles doctor was Chula Vista City Manager F. Sylvan Fulwiler who objected to the sewer plant on the grounds that it could not furnish a long range solution to the sewerage problem of the area. The city manager said his city favored the Metropolitan Sewer System which is proposed by the City of San Diego.

He said the area should have only one sewer development, designed to provide adequate service even when the area was completely urbanized. He added that many communities in the Sweetwater Valley area, including Otay, also had indicated interest in the metropolitan sewer plan.

When the time element was brought up by Board Chairman Dr. J. B. Askew, Fulwiler said he had been informed that the metropolitan system could be completed in seven to 12 months after political red tape in connection with official approval was out of the way.

Fulwiler said the answer to the problem probably lay in "some kind"' of sanitation district which could take in Chula Vista, National City and Spring Valley as well as the developments up the Sweetwater Valley.

At the conclusion of arguments from Dr. Sweeney, the Chula Vista city manager and the Sweetwater Valley Civic Association, the board voted unanimously to defer the matter until a later date.

Picnic Date Set By County Sheriff Reserves

The 3rd annual sheriff's reserves'-sponsored cerebral palsy barbecue picnic will be held July 24 at El Monte park, Lakeside.

As in the past two years, in addition to the 500 and more pounds of choice steer beef barbecued, other delicious food will be served. Continuous entertainment will be provided by star-studded talent. Franz Sherman and his Alpiners, the Alpine dancers, the Honeybucket's mirthful Hazlett Hasslers, and "Smokey" Rogers will be on hand for the day's enjoyment.

The usual fun and happiness furnished by the Al Bahr funny face clowns, and animals from the San Diego zoo for the children to pet and love will also be offered.

The DIMMER VIEW

We're also getting communications from all points on school district organization since we recited the position taken by the California Small School Districts Association. They fear local control of our schools will be lost in the State's Master Plan in which each county must take part through a County Committee on School District Organization.

California Small School Districts Association claims that any Master Plan will be a plan of consolidation. CSSDA intimates that under such reorganization, large districts will become the smaller districts as the even smaller districts are gobbled up.

CSSDA visualizes two or three school districts in the state, eventually.

Dr. Cecil Hardestry, San Diegio superintendent of schools, says this isn't very likely. He believes some districts are too small to operate on a sound fiscal basis. At least one county district is so small that the operating cost per pupil is more than $1,000 a pear. State average cost is $300.

Byron Netzley, Lemon Grove school superintendent, sees no immediate danger in the Master Plan. He believes, however, that home control is the best for operating school districts if it is economically feasible to do so.

Lawrence B. White, executive secretary of the California School Boards Association, says the Master Plan will change nothing. Actually, he says, it propels districts in the direction of greater local control rather than less of it by the elimination of the very small and very weak districts. The explanation he offers is that these districts have little local control in the first instance—the program, the budget and certain other elements of district are really controlled by county and state agencies presently.

A word of warning comes from Mr. White, although the warning might not be entirely intentional. He says that under the Master Plan procedures it would be possible for a small school district to be included in a reorganization proposal against its will. But, he says, this would have been possible without the proposal going through the School District Organization machinery.

He adds that the group he represents is on record as opposing mandatory school district reorganization.

Finally, from Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland comes word that he, too, is strongly opposed to state control, or anything remotely resembling mandatory unification. He points out that the state requirement that each district submit a desirable plan of district organization by September 1963 is the result of last year's Legislative Act. The deadline probably will have to be extended several times because of the highly localized nature of many school districts, he opines.

He concludes with the comforting promise that he, as well as we, are agreed to keep our collective eyes on the matter.

Two Beauty Contests To Be Combined

contest will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, June 3, in the Palm Room at the U.S. Grant Hotel, San Diego. The countywide contest is sponsored by the exposition and the San Diego Convention and Tourist Bureau.

The seven-day tour of Alaska will be provided by Western Airline who will fly the Fairest of the Fair to Seattle by jet airliner and the Wien Alaskan Airlines which will transport her and her companion to Fairbanks, Point Barrow and other Alaskan towns. Hotel accommodations and numerous side trips have been planned for the winner.

Besides the Alaskan vacation, the 1960 Fairest of The Fair will reign over the colorful 11-day exposition; serve as hostess of the San Diego Tourist and Convention Bureau for one year; represent San Diego county in the Maid of California Pageant in Sacramento; receive a beautiful wardrobe from the Lion Clothing Co.; swim suit by Rose Marie Reid; $300 in cash from the Southern California Exposition and the Convention and Tourist Bureau; a $100 wrist watch from KFSD-TV Channel 10; a full course body treatment by Toula of La Jolla and an opportunity to qualify as hostess for Western Airlines or Wien Alaska Airlines when she reaches 21 years of age.

El Cajon Home Show To Open

Gillespie Stadium in El Cajon is the scene of intense activity in preparation for the 12th annual San Diego Home Show, "Living, U.S.A."

Formerly held in Balboa Park's Electric Building, the Home Show this year moves to new and more expansive quarters in El Cajon.

According to Jim Wilson, show director, this promises to be the biggest and most complete home exhibit in the show's long history. Attractions include home improvements and outdoor living ideas.

"We are particularly pleased by the wide response of exhibitors in the home products field. Exhibits are at the moment enroute from as far away as White Plains, New York," Wilson said.

The Gillespie Stadium site offers acres of adjacent free parking.

TV stars Jackie Cooper and Abby Dalton of the "Hennessy" series will open the Home Show, Saturday, April 9, at 3 p.m.

Living, U.S.A. will run April 9-17.

Education Conference Tickets Mailed Out

Tickets for the 1960 Community Conference on Education to be held April 23 at Spring Valley junior high school have been mailed to presidents and representatives of local area organizations, Mrs. Thomas Smith, ticket chairman, has stated.

The Saturday conference, to open with a noon luncheon, has been developed around the theme of "Education Enters the 60's," Mrs. Smith said. The price of the tickets, $1.25, covers the registration fee, a printed summary of the conference, as well as the luncheon and an afternoon coffee session, she said.

General chairman Jack Root said the keynote speaker for the luncheon, Hillas Cole, is known throughout the state for his work with the California School Boards Association, of which he was a member of the executive board from 1954 to 1959 and president for the year 1957-1958.

Cole, a resident of Hemet, in 1950 was elected to the boards of trustees of the Hemet Valley elementary school district and the Hemet union high school district. He was a member of those boards until 1959, part of that time as president. He helped organize the Riverside County School Trustees Association and served it as secretary-treasurer, vice president and president. He is a managing partner of the Farrar-Loomis Seed Company, Hemet.

Program chairman James Johnson said several afternoon "buzz sections" are planned for the conference, sponsored by the Citizens Advisory Council of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

ELECTRICITY

. . . is your BETTER way to cook!

It's an important fact that electric surface units concentrate heat in food and utensils . . . no waste! And automatic heat controls and timing features on modern electric ranges let you set-and-forget until mealtime. You just leave your cooking under electric control and go about other activities. You'll find a gleaming new range can also brighten and modernize your kitchen.

See your dealer this week! See his All-Electric Kitchen Carnival! And when you do — ask him about the many advantages of a big new electric water heater, too. An electric water heater can be installed easily and economically in any out-of-the-way location because it requires no flue or vent.

Mary Means
Home Economist, San Diego Gas & Electric Company, SAYS:

"One reason I like electric cooking is because the high wattage in the broiler units, plus the depth of the electric oven, assures perfect broiling results — whether a thick steak is to be cooked rare or a chicken cooked slowly."

Mrs. Robert Durrell

Miss Bonnie Holstrom Wed Here To Robert Durrell

Robert Durrell of San Diego and Miss Bonnie Holstrom of Lemon Grove were married March 26 by the Rev. Hardis C. Bakken of the Lemon Grove Lutheran Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Holstrom of 1640 Glencoe, was given away by her father. The young couple were united in a double-ring, candlelight ceremony with Ronnie Svalstad as soloist and Miss Nancy McCaslin at the organ.

The bride wore a lace gown with scooped neckline, studded with pearls and sequins, a tiered brush train and lace cap with fingertip veil. She carried a white rose cascade studded with stephanotis, and a double white orchid corsage.

She was attended by Nancy Steiding as maid of honor, and Sheila Cosby as bride's maid; both wore mint green ballerina-length gowns and carried white carnation nosegays with mint green malin and satin streamers.

The bridegroom was served by his brother Richard as best men. Thomas Best, Melvin Ostburg Jr. and Robert Ybarrando were ushers.

A reception followed at the church, with 200 guests.

The bride wore a black and white sheath ensemble with white accessories as a going-away outfit for the honeymoon trip to Las Vegas.

BASEBALL FANS — This crowd seated in the chambers of the County Board of Supervisors look very little like baseball fans . . . but most of them are. The crowd gathered to express views on the application of the Little League's request for a use permit for Vista La Mesa Park in the Lemon Grove Zoning District. Opponents asked denial of the permit on the grounds that the League's operation created a noise nuisance, dust and vandalism. The proponents won out, receiving approval for a two-year permit and a two-year option. —CNS Photo

Matadors Drop Third Straight Metro Game

By Bill Ott Jr.

The Mount Miguel Matador varsity baseball team dropped its third straight Metro League baseball game, and this time at the hands of the Grossmont Foothillers in action on the Grossmont diemond Friday afternoon.

The Matador nine was scheduled to meet the Clairemont High team last Tuesday while drawing a league bye, but the game was cancelled by Clairmont officials.

Neil MacCellan limited the Miguel baseballers to three hits, and cruised on to the victory after his teammates blasted Miguel hurler Bill Lefler for 2 runs in the first inning and one run in the fourth for the victory that boosted the foothillers into a tie for second place with the Helix Highlanders, one game behind league leading El Capitan.

Bill Thornton relieved Lefler in the sixth inning, but Lefler suffered the loss.

The Hillers collected seven hits en route to the victory and played errorless ball, while the Matadors managed only three hits and committed one error.

Miguel was scheduled to meet the Chula Vista Spartans Tuesday afternoon on the Matador field, and both teams went into the game tied for third place.

Friday afternoon, the Matadors will try to break the El Capitan Vaqueros' winning streak and hand the Vaqueros their first league defeat. El Cap was expected to handle the Sweetwater Red Devils, a second division team, Tuesday with ease.

Short Shots . . .

All the local prep baseball teams will be idle next week in league competition, but most of them will battle for the championship in the Lion's Invitational Tournament to be during the Easter Vacation, with most of the games being played on the diamonds at the Navy Athletic field on Harbor Drive downtown . . . It looks as though Pete Jernigan, a former Mount Miguel baseball star, is continuing his fine fence busting ways for San Diego Junior College, with two circuit clouts in the Knights' 6-2 victory over the Los Angeles Harbor team Saturday afternoon, on the Marine Recruit Depot field. Jernigan has been pitching for the Knights, but may land a position in the outfield if his hitting continues to be up to par . . . El Cajon's Brave baseball team, one of the pre-season choices to battle for the Metro title, has found the going tough and consequently has a 1-5 record for league play after losing many one run games. The Braves lost to rival El Capitan 12-11 in one of their one run nightmare games . . . This writer tabs San Diego High, El Capitan and Helix to battle it out for the Lion's Tournament Championship, with Grossmont and Crawford being the dark horses in the ranks . . . Bill Ott.

Local Tracksters Invited to Enter 1st Easter Relays

High school track stars in San Diego and Imperial counties are being invited to compete in the First Annual Easter Relays to be held on April 16 at 1 p.m. in Balboa stadium. The event is co-sponsored by the San Diego track and field association and the San Diego park and recreation department under sanction of the C.I.F.

Top relay teams and three-man field event teams with the best combined marks will be invited to participate as well as outstanding individual athletes in three special events, 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles and hop-step-and-jump. Entry deadline is April 8.

There also will be two dash events, a relay, broad jump, high jump and shot put for girls.

1 Run Sufficient As Highlanders Win

One run was enough for the Helix Highlanders' baseball team as the Highlanders shutout the Chula Vista Spartans 1-0 in Metro League action last Tuesday afternoon.

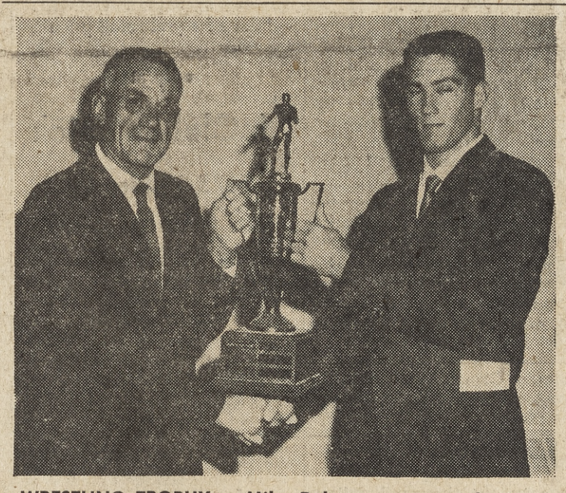

The Scots scored their big run in the fifth inning, and Helix chucker John Lippert went on to collect the victory.

The Scots drew a league bye Friday afternoon, and hosted the San Diego State Frosh, but played a poor host as they blasted the Frosh 9-3, with sophomore George Sherrod claiming the victory.

Grossmont, tied with the Scots for the second place position, invades the Helix diamond Friday.

A merit system will start in Boy Scout Troop 168 this week. It was explained at the last meeting of the troop by Scoutmaster Krauss.

Mention also was made of the cactus gardens which the troop is selling at a dollar each to raise funds to purchase more equipment. Patrol leaders and new patrols were assigned. Games were played.

The meeting opened with a prayer and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The next meeting of Cub Scout Pack 318 will be held April 22. The next committee meeting will be held at the home of R. D. Moore, 4681 Troy Lane, La Mesa, at 7:30 p.m. on April 12.

At the last meeting of the pack, the boys enjoyed group singing, a "Gold Rush Days" skit, and a somewhat musical rendition by the "Kitchen Stinkers" of Den 5.

The following awards were made:

Kenneth Gale, gold and silver arrows; Willard Cook, bear badge; Steven Cline, bear badge; Jerry Gossask, gold arrow;

Two new bobcats were taken in: Dennis Long and Michael Bratton. Den 1 won the awards flag and Den 4 won the parents flag.

After refreshments, movies and slides of last year's father and son camp-out were shown. They stirred humorous memories and keen anticipation of the coming camp-out scheduled for May 28 and 29 at Cuyamaca state park.

Camp sites at the San Diego headquarters of the Girl Scouts will provide a summer opportunity for handicapped boys and girls to participate in overnight camping, when they are unable to attend established camps in the mountains. The real camp program at "Camp Safari" will include cooking in the out-of-doors, nature study, singing, hiking, and opportunities for making new friends.

Still needed camp personnel are: a registered (resident) nurse, two cooks, two kitchen helpers and several counselors. Full information may be had by calling Dorothy Gray, at G. S. headquarters, CY 8-8391.

Pre-camp training will be held Aug. 15; first session, Aug. 8-12; second session, Aug. 16-19. Fees are $28 for Scouts and $30 for non-Scouts.

School Lunch Personnel To Attend Convention

Lemon Grove school district will be well represented when the California School Food Service Association convenes in Bakersfield for its Sixth Annual State Conference beginning April 10. Among those planning to attend the three-day conclave are: School Lunch Supervisor Ruth Pfister, Mildred Kish and Eloise Lanier from Palm Avenue school, Dorothy Rasmusson from San Altos school, and Janet Andrews, school lunch manager at the junior high school.

The organization, whose membership of over 3,000 is composed of school cafeteria supervisors, managers and personnel throughout the state, convenes each year to review new products and techniques in school feeding and to exchange ideas in a spirit of mutual helpfulness.

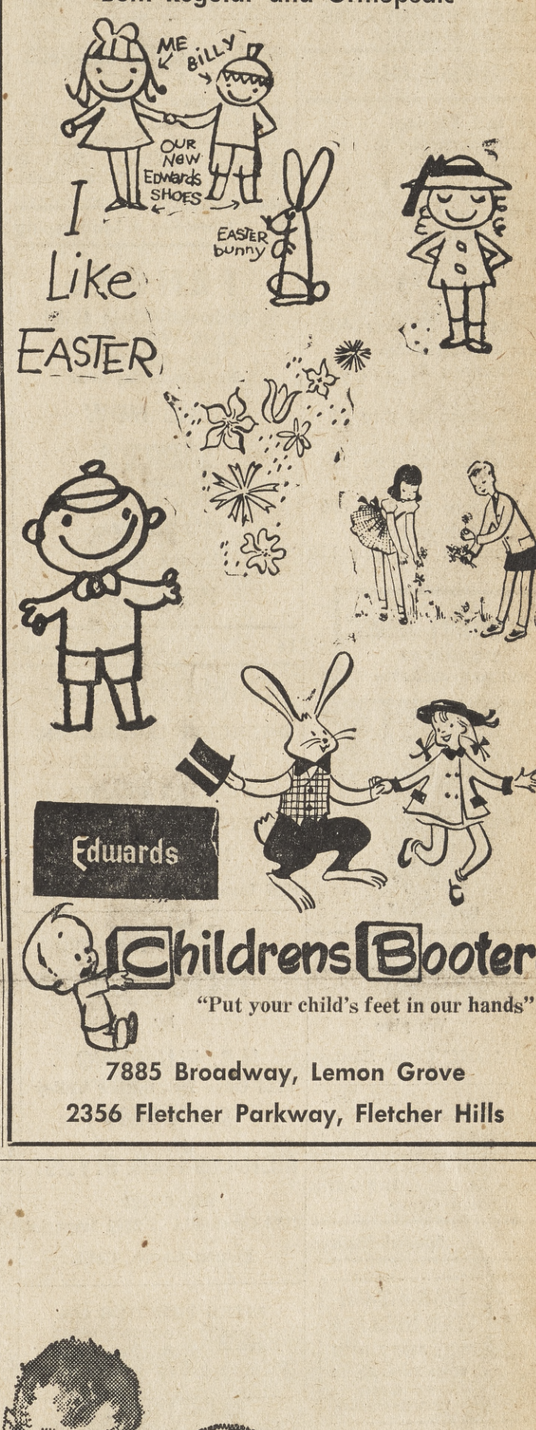

Theme for this year's conference is "Togetherness — the School Lunch and the Community." Daily sessions, under the leadership of specialists in each field, will cover such topics as "Old Menus for New," "Sanitation Why's," "School Lunch as Part of Curriculum," "Selecting Cafeteria Kitchen Equipment," and "Training of Personnel."

The Lemon Grove delegates are members of the Southern San Diego County chapter of the state association. Mrs. Kish currently holds the posts of historian and publicity chairman for that organization, and Mrs. Andrews serves as special studies chairman.

Churches to Combine Good Friday Services

"The Seven Last Words Of Jesus" form the theme of the third annual Good Friday three-hour service sponsored for the community by the Homeland Pastor's Association. The service, an ancient tradition in the Christian community, will be held this year at the First Congregational Church, Main and Church streets, on Friday, April 15, from noon to 3 p.m. These are historically the three hours in which Jesus hung upon the cross until his final death.

Ministers of the various churches of the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area will participate. Two ministers are assigned to each 25-minute period beginning at noon. One will conduct the worship, offer the prayer and read the scripture. The other will give the main meditation based upon one of the "words" spoken by Jesus from the cross. Worshippers are invited to come for all or any part of the service. They may enter at the beginning of any 25-minute period and leave at the close of any period.

Special Holy Week music will be presented by the musicians of the participating churches. A free-will offering will be received to cover the expenses of sponsoring the service. This three-hour worship experience is offered to the community by the Homeland Pastor's Association in the hope that it may serve to deepen the spiritual lives of all Christians and unite them in one common expression of faith. The public is invited.

Baptist Church Notes

SV FIRST BAPTIST

The church members last week approved plans for the expansion and beautification of the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley. A building committee also was formed.

—o—

CASA DE ORO BAPTIST

A "Vacation Bible School Committee" has been formed at the Casa de Oro Baptist Church. There will be a Vacation Bible School "Pow Wow" for boys and girls, at 10195 Madrid Way. Departments will be formed for children from 2 year olds through junior age. An interesting week is being planned, says Rev. Ernest Anderson.

The annual business meeting will be held April 13, which will be the first in the new church.

—o—

BANCROFT BAPTIST

The Marian Oaks, girls auxiliary of the Bancroft Baptist Church, will have a buffet tea in the church from 3 to 4 p.m. Saturday. At that time the mothers of the girls will be enlightened as to the aims and goals of the group. Counselors of the group are Mrs. W. V. Prince, 8652 Tyler, and Mrs. F. E. Prince, 953 Broadview.

Easter Film Is Program At Church

The Lemon Grove Methodist Church will present a full-length technicolor movie entitled "The Power Of the Resurrection" Sunday night, Palm Sunday, at 7 p.m. at the church, according to Rev. Don Cooke, pastor. The movie is the dramatic story of Peter's unconquerable faith which came to him through the power of the presence of the risen Christ in him. The aged Peter in prison with other Christians awaits unknown tortures and possible death. He instills courage and faith in a frightened young man by telling him of his own trials of faith, how at first he was proud and boastful—until the real test of his faith came.

Evangelical Church Slates Meetings

Evangelical United Brethren Church of Spring Valley, meeting temporarily in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Palm Avenue, La Mesa, will hold special evangelistic meetings April 7, 8, 9 and 10 at 7:30 p.m.
